When sewing together the cat, use the stitches to help keep you oriented and place all pieces equally apart.

First, sew together the pink head and the pink stitches of the legs, use the diagram below to see where to sew on the legs and the tail.

When you have sewn together the first head and the legs, sew together the purple head and the purple stitches of the legs, and the remaining stitches of the purple head with the remaining stitches of the pink head. If you prefer, you can stuff the head and legs a bit with fiberfill before closing them.

This is how you crochet the reversible cat, and you can hide one head inside the other.

Finally, sew the eyes onto the purple head between rows 10 and 13 with 6 stitches in between. Then you embroider a nose and a mouth between the eyes and some whiskers at each side of the face.

Embroider eyes, mouth, and whiskers on the pink head. The picture depicts a happy face, but you can embroider whichever you prefer: sad, hungry, sleepy...

And your reversible cat is now finished!

Enjoy!
